1 Introduction

The mEducator Work Package 7 Awareness and Dissemination is running throughout the duration of the project, from month 1 to month 36 and involves 4 Deliverables:

D.7.1. Core documentation, e.g. teacher/student guides, re-purposing guide, technical manuals, etc.

D.7.2. Content in project websites, wiki and blog

D.7.3.(a and b) Dissemination activities report & material (list and copies of conference/journal papers, Dissemination events and/or workshops, Results of participation in clustering events)

The first deliverable of this Work package was D.7.3.a., submitted in May 2011. The deliverable was of type Report and Product, involving a List of the dissemination activities carried out from May 2009 to April 2011, as well as the products, i.e. the dissemination material. The current Deliverable is the final version of WP7 Deliverable 7.3.b. containing all dissemination material of the project.

2 Dissemination activities

The main purpose of dissemination activities of mEducator at this stage of the project were:

- To compile good practice for inviting new partners and include new content
- To record project activities and progress for interested parties through project websites, blog, wiki etc.
- To identify communities and events relevant to the project and organize clustering events
- To disseminate project findings to international professional medical societies, students associations and other bodies
- To publish articles related to the project in relevant journals, conferences and newsletters

2.1 Target audience

The target user audience of mEducator, as defined in the DoW, includes 3 types of users:

- a. Medical educators
- b. Medical Students
- c. Residents & Specialized Doctors

D.7.3.b. Dissemination activities report & material (List and copies of conference/journal papers, Dissemination events and/or workshops, Results of participation in clustering events)

Target user audience of mEducator

The dissemination activities planned or carried out already are not limited to activities addressed to target user groups, they are rather encompassing many different types of audience such as the communities of medical education and of educational technologies, the clustering projects and the relevant programmes of the European Commission.

Target audience of mEducator dissemination activities

2.2 Dissemination tools/instruments

During the initial phase of the project a first plan and strategy for dissemination and awareness was created. Based on that plan, dissemination activities have been carried out and reported regularly. These included:

- The creation of a website: www.meducator.net
- The establishment and use of online communication tools
- The design and reproduction of leaflets
- The design and reproduction of Posters
- The stimulation of Press Releases on developments and events
- The organisation of Events & Meetings
- The transmission of Newsletters
- The release of Public Deliverables
- The presentation of project's progress and achievements in Scientific Conferences and Publications

2.3 Website statistics for the period May2009 – April 2012

Since the beginning of the project, the coordinator as leader of WP7 has been collecting statistics on the hits to the mEducator website. Through the duration of the project more websites have been created, such as mEducator 2.0, and instantiations of mEducator 3.0, and

D.7.3.b. Dissemination activities report & material

2.6 Dissemination activities in numbers

mEducator consortium members have been active in promoting the work done within the mEducator project in several occasions. They have built awareness of the project and its objectives through activities that vary from the creation of dissemination material to the scientific publications and workshop organization. The figure below demonstrates how all dissemination activities are distributed to various different activities.

2.7 Partner Participation in numbers mEducator project partners disseminated project effort in numerous venues and publication opportunities. The figure that follows demonstrates the quantity of dissemination activities of each consortium member from May 2009 to April 2012. Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, as the leader of the WP7 on Awareness and Dissemination has contributed more intensively to the dissemination activities than other partners, however all partners have contributed and worked collaboratively towards the best results in dissemination.

5 Concluding Remarks

The mEducator consortium has placed a great effort into Awareness and Dissemination activities, which were proved necessary not only for the dissemination of the project objectives, but also for the establishment of recommendations and best practices for content sharing in Medical Education.

Partners will keep promoting their research activities and results even beyond the project duration by publishing more articles, by acknowledging the eContentplus programme in relevant publications, by promoting interest for content sharing within the Medical Education community and by enabling the transfer of mEducator recommendations and best practices to other sectors in education.
